Type	Examination (unit)
Superordinate	Derived neuro MRI data, p. 4139 (Project)
Name	Gray matter volume for regions of Schaefer atlas
Title	Gray matter vol for regions of Schaefer18 100 parcels atlas
Description	Cortical gray matter volume calculated on a reconstructed surface (from FreeSurfer) resulting in a more precise estimation of regional volume compared to volume-based methods (such as CAT12.8) due to the reduction of partial volume effects; calculated using T1-weighted 3D GRE sequence of the brain (MP-RAGE), sagittal orientation, matrix size of 256x256x300; performed using software FreeSurfer7.1.1 (https://surfer.nmr.mgh.harvard.edu/); calculated for Schaefer 2018 atlas with 100 parcels ('Schaefer2018_100Parcels_17Networks_order'); Reference: Schaefer, A., Kong, R., Gordon, E. M., Laumann, T. O., Zuo, X. N., Holmes, A. J., ... & Yeo, B. T. (2018). Local-global parcellation of the human cerebral cortex from intrinsic functional connectivity MRI. 11.3.1.2 Leukocytes (wbc)

11.3.1.2.1 wbc: measured value

Type	Variable
Superordinate	Immediate analysis, p. 5344 (Examination)
In subsection 2	Leukocytes (wbc)
Title	wbc: measured value
Description	White blood cells (wbc) were determined in the central study laboratory as well as in all local study laboratories. Attention: The variable sa_lab (responsible laboratory) must be requested for every analysis of the immediate analytics (SOFA) data. Essential information on the material, measurement methodology, platform, and measured value of the parameter can be found in the variables sa_wbc_mat, sa_wbc_meth, sa_wbc_plat, and sa_wbc_info. These must therefore always be requested. Detailed information on the parameter can be found in the SOFA quality reports (NAKO-473). Attention: The variable sa_sampleage (age of the blood sample upon arrival at the laboratory) must always be requested when analyzing data from the central study laboratory. Data users are required to assess the influence of sample age on their analyses. The general recommendation for white blood cells is not to use measurement values with a sample age $\geq$ 96 h.

11.3.1.27.1 alb: measured value

Type	Variable
Superordinate	Immediate analysis, p. 5344 (Examination)
In subsection 2	Albumin (alb)

Description	Albumin (alb) was determined only in the central study laboratory and in the local study laboratory of the Halle study center. Attention: The variable sa_lab (responsible laboratory) must be requested for every analysis of the point-of-care analytics (SOFA) data. Essential information on the material, measurement method, platform, and measured value of the analyte can be found in the variables sa_alb_mat, sa_alb_meth, sa_alb_plat, and sa_alb_info. Therefore, they must always be requested together. Detailed information on the measured variable can be found in the SOFA quality reports (NAKO-473). Attention: The variable sa_sampleage (age of the blood sample upon arrival at the laboratory) must always be requested when analyzing data from the central study laboratory. Data users are required to assess the influence of sample age on their analyses. The general recommendation is not to use measurements with a sample age $\geq$ 120 h. Attention: Stability and/or comparability of the measured values between laboratories is not always ensured. Detailed information on the comparability of measurements between laboratories can be found in the SOFA quality reports (NAKO-473). Attention: A proportion of the samples measured locally were remeasured in the central study laboratory. A combination of central and centrally remeasured values is preferable to a combination of central and local measurements. All data users must independently check whether these data are already available and can be requested.

In subsection 2	Urea (urea)
Title	urea: measured value
Description	Urea (urea) was determined exclusively in the central study laboratory. Attention: The variable sa_lab (responsible laboratory) must be requested for every analysis of the immediate analytics (SOFA) data. Essential information on the material, measurement methodology, platform, and measured value of the parameter can be found in the variables sa_urea_mat, sa_urea_meth, sa_urea_plat, and sa_urea_info. These must therefore always be requested. Detailed information on the parameter can be found in the SOFA quality reports (NAKO-473). Attention: The variable sa_sampleage (age of the blood sample upon arrival at the laboratory) must always be requested when analyzing data from the central study laboratory. Data users are required to assess the influence of sample age on their analyses.

Description	Uric acid (urate) was determined in the central study laboratory as well as in all local study laboratories. Attention: The variable sa_lab (responsible laboratory) must be requested for every analysis of the immediate analytics (SOFA) data. Essential information on the material, measurement methodology, platform, and measured value of the parameter can be found in the variables sa_urate_mat, sa_urate_meth, sa_urate_plat, and sa_urate_info. Attention: The variable sa_sampleage (age of the blood sample upon arrival at the laboratory) must always be requested when analyzing data from the central study laboratory. Data users are required to assess the influence of sample age on their analyses. Attention: Stability and/or comparability of the measurement values between laboratories is not always ensured. Detailed information on the comparability of measurement values between laboratories can be found in the SOFA quality reports (NAKO-473). Attention: A portion of the locally measured samples was remeasured in the central study laboratory. Type	Variable
Superordinate	Immediate analysis, p. 5344 (Examination)
In subsection 2	Gamma-glutamyl transferase (ggt)
Title	ggt: measured value
Description	Gamma-glutamyl transferase (GGT) was determined in the central study laboratory as well as in all local study laboratories. Attention: The variable sa_lab (responsible laboratory) must be requested for every analysis of the point-of-care analytics (SOFA) data. Essential information on the material, measurement method, platform, and measured value of the analyte can be found in the variables sa_ggt_mat, sa_ggt_meth, sa_ggt_plat, and sa_ggt_info. Therefore, they must always be requested together. Detailed information on the analyte can be found in the SOFA quality reports (NAKO-473). Attention: The variable sa_sampleage (age of the blood sample upon arrival at the laboratory) must always be requested when analyzing data from the central study laboratory. Data users are required to assess the influence of sample age on their analyses. Attention: Stability and/or comparability of the measured values between laboratories is not always ensured. Detailed information on the comparability of measurements between laboratories can be found in the SOFA quality reports (NAKO-473). Attention: A proportion of the samples measured locally were remeasured in the central study laboratory. A combination of central and centrally remeasured values is preferable to a combination of central and local measurements. All data users must independently check whether these data are already available and can be requested.

11.3.1.43.1 trig: measured value

Type	Variable
Superordinate	Immediate analysis, p. 5344 (Examination)
In subsection 2	Triglycerides (trig)
Title	trig: measured value

Description	Triglycerides (trig) were determined in the central study laboratory as well as in 8/16 local study laboratories. Attention: The variable sa_lab (responsible laboratory) must be requested for every analysis of the immediate analytics (SOFA) data. Essential information on the material, measurement methodology, platform, and measured value of the parameter can be found in the variables sa_trig_mat, sa_trig_meth, sa_trig_plat, and sa_trig_info. These must therefore always be requested. Detailed information on the parameter can be found in the SOFA quality reports (NAKO-473). Attention: The variable sa_sampleage (age of the blood sample upon arrival at the laboratory) must always be requested when analyzing data from the central study laboratory. Data users are required to assess the influence of sample age on their analyses. Attention: A portion of the locally measured samples was remeasured in the central study laboratory. A combination of analyses using central and centrally remeasured values is preferable to a combination of central and local measurement values. All data users must independently check whether these data are already available and can be requested.

11.3.1.45.1 ldlc: measured value

Type	Variable

In subsection 2	LDL cholesterol (ldlc)
Title	ldlc: measured value
Description	LDL cholesterol (ldlc) was measured in the central study laboratory as well as in 11/16 local study laboratories. Note: The variable sa_lab (responsible laboratory) must be requested for every analysis of the immediate analysis (SOFA) data. Essential information on the material, measurement method, platform, and measured value of the analyte can be found in the variables sa_ldlc_mat, sa_ldlc_meth, sa_ldlc_plat, and sa_ldlc_info. Therefore, these variables must always be requested. Detailed information on the analyte can be found in the SOFA quality reports (NAKO-473). Note: The variable sa_sampleage (age of the blood sample upon arrival at the laboratory) must always be requested when analysing data from the central study laboratory. Data users are requested to assess the influence of sample age on their analyses. The general recommendation is not to use measurement values with a sample age $\geq$ 120 h. Note: Stability and/or comparability of measurement values between laboratories is not always ensured. Detailed information on the comparability of measurement values between laboratories can be found in the SOFA quality reports (NAKO-473). Note: A proportion of the locally measured samples was re-measured in the central study laboratory. Type	Variable
Superordinate	Immediate analysis, p. 5344 (Examination)
In subsection 2	LDL cholesterol, calculated, Friedewald formula (ldlc_calc)
Title	ldlc_calc: measured value
Description	As part of data processing, LDL cholesterol concentration was calculated (ldlc_calc) according to the Friedewald formula for fasting participants with triglyceride concentrations $\leq$ 4.6 mmol/l. Attention: The variable sa_lab (responsible laboratory) must be requested for every analysis of the point-of-care laboratory data (SOFA). Essential information on the material, measurement methodology, platform, and measured value of the parameter can be found in the variables sa_ldlc_calc_mat, sa_ldlc_calc_meth, sa_ldlc_calc_plat, and sa_ldlc_calc_info. These variables must therefore always be requested as well. Detailed information on the parameter can be found in the SOFA quality reports (NAKO-473). Attention: The variable sa_sampleage (age of the blood sample upon arrival at the laboratory) must always be requested when analyzing data from the central study laboratory. Data users are requested to assess the influence of sample age on their analyses. Attention: Stability and/or comparability of the measured values between laboratories is not always guaranteed. Detailed information on the comparability of measured values between laboratories can be found in the SOFA quality reports (NAKO-473). Attention: A subset of locally measured samples was re-measured in the central study laboratory. A combination of analyses using central and centrally re-measured values should be preferred over a combination of central and local measurement values. All data users must independently verify whether these data are already available and can be requested.

11.3.1.49 non-HDL cholesterol, calculated (nonhdlc_calc)

11.3.1.49.1 nonhdlc_calc: measured value

Type	Variable
Superordinate	Immediate analysis, p. 5344 (Examination)
In subsection 2	non-HDL cholesterol, calculated (nonhdlc_calc)
Title	nonhdlc_calc: measured value

Description	As part of data processing, non-HDL cholesterol was calculated uniformly where possible (nonhdlc_calc). Attention: The variable sa_lab (responsible laboratory) must be requested for every analysis of the point-of-care laboratory data (SOFA). Essential information on the material, measurement methodology, platform, and measured value of the parameter can be found in the variables sa_nonhdlc_calc_mat, sa_nonhdlc_calc_meth, sa_nonhdlc_calc_plat, and sa_nonhdlc_calc_info. These variables must therefore always be requested as well. Detailed information on the parameter can be found in the SOFA quality reports (NAKO-473). Attention: The variable sa_sampleage (age of the blood sample upon arrival at the laboratory) must always be requested when analyzing data from the central study laboratory. Data users are requested to assess the influence of sample age on their analyses. Attention: Stability and/or comparability of the measured values between laboratories is not always guaranteed. Detailed information on the comparability of measured values between laboratories can be found in the SOFA quality reports (NAKO-473). Attention: A subset of locally measured samples was re-measured in the central study laboratory. A combination of analyses using central and centrally re-measured values should be preferred over a combination of central and local measurement values. All data users must independently verify whether these data are already available and can be requested.

Therefore, they must always be requested together. Detailed information on the measured variable can be found in the SOFA quality reports (NAKO-473). Attention: The variable sa_sampleage (age of the blood sample upon arrival at the laboratory) must always be requested when analyzing data from the central study laboratory. Data users are required to assess the influence of sample age on their analyses.

Description	Alanine aminotransferase (alat) was determined in the central study laboratory as well as in all local study laboratories. Attention: The variable sa_lab (responsible laboratory) must be requested for every analysis of the immediate analytics (SOFA) data. Essential information on the material, measurement methodology, platform, and measured value of the parameter can be found in the variables sa_alat_mat, sa_alat_meth, sa_alat_plat, and sa_alat_info. These must therefore always be requested. Detailed information on the parameter can be found in the SOFA quality reports (NAKO-473). Attention: The variable sa_sampleage (age of the blood sample upon arrival at the laboratory) must always be requested when analyzing data from the central study laboratory. Data users are required to assess the influence of sample age on their analyses. Attention: Stability and/or comparability of the measurement values between laboratories is not always ensured. Detailed information on the comparability of measurement values between laboratories can be found in the SOFA quality reports (NAKO-473). Attention: A portion of the locally measured samples was remeasured in the central study laboratory. A combination of analyses using central and centrally remeasured values is preferable to a combination of central and local measurement values. All data users must independently check whether these data are already available and can be requested.

11.3.1.56.1 ogtt0: measured value

Type	Variable
Superordinate	Immediate analysis, p. 5344 (Examination)
In subsection 2	oGTT Glukose 0h (ogtt0)
Title	ogtt0: measured value

Description	The 0 h glucose value of the oGTT (ogtt0) was measured in the central study laboratory as well as in 13/16 local study laboratories. Note: The variable sa_lab (responsible laboratory) must be requested for every analysis of the immediate analysis (SOFA) data. Essential information on the material, measurement method, platform, and measured value of the analyte can be found in the variables sa_ogtt0_mat, sa_ogtt0_meth, sa_ogtt0_plat, and sa_ogtt0_info. Therefore, these variables must always be requested. Detailed information on the analyte can be found in the SOFA quality reports (NAKO-473). Note: The variable sa_sampleage (age of the blood sample upon arrival at the laboratory) must always be requested when analysing data from the central study laboratory. Data users are requested to assess the influence of sample age on their analyses. Measurement values with a sample age $\geq$ 84 h were classified as unreliable and therefore converted to missing. Note: As part of quality assurance, a variable for the validity of the oGTT was defined; this variable must be requested (a_ogtt_valid). Measurement values from invalid oGTTs must not be used. Therefore, instead of this variable, the variable a_ogtt_0 should be used, as invalid measurement values (e.g. due to non-SOP-compliant performance of the OGTT) have already been removed. Differences were also observed between local and central measurements regarding the distribution of fasting glucose values of the oGTT, with on average higher values in local measurements. This observation is presumably caused by an interplay of various factors and could not be conclusively clarified. When investigating regional differences, only centrally measured values must be used for analyses in order to avoid misinterpretations. Detailed information on the comparability of measurement values between laboratories can be found in the SOFA quality reports (NAKO-473) and the oGTT quality report (NAKO-431).

Type	Examination (unit)
Superordinate	Results data from biosample analyses, p. 5344 (Project)
Name	NAKO-440 biosample results
Title	NAKO-440: S. Castell et al. - Determinants and consequences of the (
Description	S. Castell et al. - Determinanten und Folgen des (differentiellen) Serostatus für Infektionen. Die Borreliose-Diagnostik wird mit einem zweistufigem Algorithmus durchführt (Qualitätsstandard MiQ 12). Als erstes werden Enzyme-linked Immunosorbent Assay-Tests (ELISA) durchgeführt (Virotech Diagnostics GmbH), um die Seroproben auf IgG/IgM-Antikörper zu untersuchen. Dieses Verfahren wird automatisiert durchgeführt (DSX® ELISA Prozessoren, Dynex Technologies). Im zweiten Schritt wird die Spezifität nachgewiesener Antikörper automatisiert (ProfiBlot Automatic® Systems, Dynex Technologies) durch die Durchführung von LINE-Immoblots (Virotech Diagnostics GmbH) verifiziert (grenzwertige und positive ELISA-Ergebnisse). Abschließend werden die Daten an die LabImage® LA Software (Kapelan Bio-imaging Solutions) übermittelt, welche Immunoblots erkennt, kombiniert und interpretiert. Technisch validiert wird über eine Medizinisch-technische Laboratoriumsassistentin und die medizinische Auswertung durch einen Facharzt für Mikrobiologie, Virologie und Infektionsepidemiologie.

11.3.4 Urine dipstick analysis

Type	Examination (unit)
Superordinate	Results data from biosample analyses, p. 5344 (Project)
Name	Urine dipstick analysis
Title	Urine dipstick analysis

Description	Processed variables and validation of the results of urine dipstick analysis as part of the immediate analysis during the baseline examination: Urine dipstick analysis was performed on fresh urine samples at the respective study centres. Three of the 18 study centres in total (Augsburg, Freiburg, and Neubrandenburg) conducted this analysis; therefore, corresponding measurement values are only available for these study centres. All study centres used the same system: CLINITEK Status+ (Siemens Healthineers, Erlangen, Germany). The Freiburg and Neubrandenburg study centres used CLINITEK Microalbumin 9 (Siemens Healthineers, Erlangen, Germany) urine dipsticks. The Augsburg study centre initially used Multistix Microalbumin 9 (Siemens Healthineers, Erlangen, Germany) at the beginning of the measurements but switched to CLINITEK Microalbumin 9 (Siemens Healthineers, Erlangen, Germany) during the ongoing study. After this change, the same measurement parameters were collected at all three study centres. Prior to this change, the Augsburg study centre collected measurements for bilirubin, specific gravity, and urobilinogen, but not for albumin, creatinine, albumin/creatinine ratio, and protein/creatinine ratio. Additional data on urine colour and urine turbidity were collected from the Neubrandenburg study centre. Differences between the urine test strips are described in the corresponding quality report. Differences in pH values should be taken into account in all relevant analyses.

11.6.1.1.1 OGTT valid

Type	Variable
Superordinate	OGTT and classification of glucose tolerance, p. 5982 (Examination)
In subsection 1	Inclusion and validity
Title	OGTT valid
Description	a_ogtt_valid contains the assessment of OGTT validity according to the recommendations of the Diabetes Expert Group. OGTTs in which handgrip strength measurement or spirometry (n = 3,645, as of 25 June 2025) was performed during the test were classified as valid despite deviating from the SOP, as analyses showed no relevant influence on the 2-hour glucose. For evaluations based exclusively on SOP-compliant OGTTs, it is recommended to additionally request the variables a_ogtt_exc_grip and a_ogtt_exc_spiro and to exclude affected cases accordingly.

Type	Variable
Superordinate	OGTT and classification of glucose tolerance, p. 5982 (Examination)
In subsection 1	Inclusion and validity
Title	Grip strength measurement before second blood draw (not excluded, but not compliant with the OGTT SOP)
Description	Grip strength measurement was done before the second blood draw. This is not OGTT SOP compliant, however, these participants were not excluded, since the glucose values of these participants did not differ from the ones without grip strength measurement before the second blood draw. Participants were considered to meet this condition, if date(hgr_beg)=date(ogtt_o8_beg) and ((hgr_beg_mess or time(hgr_beg)) 0 and hgr_rh1_kraft not equal 888) or (hgr_rh2_kraft > 0 and hgr_rh2_kraft not equal 888) or (hgr_rh3_kraft > 0 and hgr_rh3_kraft not equal 888) or (hgr_lh1_kraft > 0 and hgr_lh1_kraft not equal 888) or (hgr_lh2_kraft > 0 and hgr_lh2_kraft not equal 888) or (hgr_lh3_kraft > 0 and hgr_lh3_kraft not equal 888). Missing values in ogtt_be2_02 and ogtt_o8_beg are considered in a_ogtt_exc_105135 and a_ogtt_exc_1115, respectively, and thus are included in a_ogtt_valid. The number of participants fulfilling these criteria differs from the number in the quality assurance report (NAKO-431), because there, only the variable hgr_beg_mess was used and this variable was filled only until May 2025. Additional consideration of hgr_beg led to a higher number of participants fulfilling the criteria.

Type	Variable
Superordinate	OGTT and classification of glucose tolerance, p. 5982 (Examination)
In subsection 1	Inclusion and validity
Title	Spirometry examination before second blood draw (not excluded, but not compliant with the OGTT SOP)

Description	Spirometry examination was done before the second blood draw. This is not OGTT SOP compliant, however, these participants were not excluded, since the glucose values of these participants did not differ from the ones without spirometry examination before the second blood draw. Participants were considered to meet this condition, if date(spiro_unt_beg)=date(ogtt_o8_beg) and (time(spiro_unt_beg) < time(ogtt_be2_02)) and spiro_unt_beg is not missing and ogtt_be2_02 is not missing and at least one spirometry file exists, i. e. spiro_file_1 is not missing or spiro_file_2 is not missing. Missings in ogtt_be2_02 and ogtt_o8_beg are considered in a_ogtt_exc_105135 and a_ogtt_exc_1115 , respectively, and thus are included in a_ogtt_valid. 11.6.1.2.3 OGTT 0h

Type	Variable
Superordinate	OGTT and classification of glucose tolerance, p. 5982 (Examination)
In subsection 1	OGTT and classification of glucose tolerance
Title	OGTT 0h

Description	Cleaned 0 h glucose values with regard to invalid OGTTs. The expert group recommends using this variable for analyses, as invalid values (for example due to OGTT performance not compliant with the SOP) have already been eliminated. The 0 h glucose of the OGTT (ogtt0) was determined in the central study laboratory as well as in 13/16 local study laboratories. Attention: The variable sa_lab (responsible laboratory) must be requested for every analysis of the point-of-care laboratory data (SOFA). Essential information on the material, measurement methodology, platform, and measured value of the parameter can be found in the variables sa_ogtt0_mat, sa_ogtt0_meth, sa_ogtt0_plat, and sa_ogtt0_info. These variables must therefore always be requested as well. Detailed information on the parameter can be found in the SOFA quality reports (NAKO-473). Attention: The variable sa_sampleage (age of the blood sample upon arrival at the laboratory) must always be requested when analyzing data from the central study laboratory. Data users are requested to assess the influence of sample age on their analyses. Measurement values with a sample age $\geq$ 84 h were classified as unreliable and therefore converted to missing. Attention: As part of quality assurance, a variable for OGTT validity was defined; this must be requested (a_ogtt_valid). Measurement values from invalid OGTTs must not be used. Differences were also observed between local and central measurements regarding the distribution of fasting glucose values of the OGTT, with on average higher values for local measurements. This observation is presumably caused by an interaction of various factors and could not be conclusively clarified. When investigating regional differences, only centrally determined measurement values may be used for analyses in order to avoid misinterpretations. Detailed information on the comparability of measurement values between laboratories can be found in the SOFA quality reports (NAKO-473) and the OGTT quality report (NAKO-431).

The 2 h glucose of the OGTT (ogtt2) was determined in the central study laboratory as well as in 13/16 local study laboratories.
